HOMEOWNERSHIP LOAN PROGRAMS TO ASSIST IN MASSACHUSETTS' ECONOMIC RECOVERY

he Commonwealth has undertaken an aggressive program of housing initiatives to stimulate economic recovery, create jobs and revitalize communities. These programs are offered through the Executive Office of Communities and Development and the Massachusetts Housing Finance Agency and include a full menu of reduced interest rate loans targeted to low- and moderate-income families, which help with the purchase of a first home, making needed repairs or abating lead paint, and revitalizing our neighborhoods. These programs are funded through the sale of tax-exempt bonds to private investors (not state tax dollars) and, since 1979, have channeled more than $1.4 billion in private sector investment into Massachusetts cities and towns and assisted more than 26,000 low- and moderate-income households.

BENEFITS

Benefits of MHFA's programs (to lowand moderate-income borrowers) include:

- below market interest rates (usually 2-3% below the going market rate) ♦ the ability to put as little as 5% down
- flexible underwriting standards and mortgage insurance options
- statewide availability
- ◆ loans to help with downpayment and closing costs (see ASSIST Program)

Qualifications

To qualify for these special homeownership loan programs, borrowers must be creditworthy and meet specific income and home purchase price guidelines. Applicants also must be first-time buyers, except in the federally-targeted cities of Boston, Chelsea, Everett, Fall River, Lawrence, Lynn, North Adams and Somerville.

Availability

Loan funds are offered periodically throughout the year. Prospective borrowers should contact the MHFA to determine whether or not funds are available through any given program. MHFA's current programs are summarized in the adjacent chart and fall within four broad categories: (1) Mortgage Programs (2) REO Programs (3) Rehabilitation Programs and (4) Special Programs. Loans are made through participating lenders statewide and, in some cases, in cooperation with local housing agencies.

For Information

All loan offerings are widely publicized in the print and broadcast media. To obtain brochures on available loan programs as well as the names of participating lenders, prospective borrowers should contact MHFA's Office of Single-Family Programs, 50 Milk Street, Boston, MA 02109, Tel. (617) 451-2766. Those who are hearing-impaired should call (617) 451-3650 (TDD#). Borrowers also can contact lenders and local housing agencies who are participating in MHFA programs for complete program details.

MORTGAGE PROGRAMS

Offered in cooperation with participating lenders statewide, programs make buying a home more affordable by providing lowinterest mortgage financing or a federal income tax credit known as a mortgage credit certificate. Programs stimulate homeownership and local investment and tax revenues.

REO PROGRAMS

Programs are intended to help absorb oversupply of housing and contribute to economic recovery while providing affordable homeownership opportunities created by current slow real estate market. By offering units priced within MHFA's cost guidelines, lenders, builders and regulators can secure a set-aside of MHFA mortgages as a marketing incentive and housing is returned to productive use.

REHABILITATION PROGRAMS

Offered in cooperation with participating local housing agencies for people who need help either in buying and rehabbing an older home or in making improvements on a home they already own and occupy. Programs contribute to local efforts to stabilize and revitalize neightborhoods and help local economies through creation of jobs and purchase of goods and materials

SPECIAL PROGRAMS

Programs/services designed to help lowerincome homebuyers who are able to support monthly mortgage payments but do not have sufficient savings to make a downpayment or to pay for closing costs or who are unable to secure private mortgage insurance where

NEW PROGRAM

Boston residents should watch for a flier in their Water & Sewer bills describing the availability of assistance under the Home Improvement Loan Program (HILP) to remove lead-contributing plumbing materials and improve the quality of drinking water in their homes.

OLD PROGRAM

The Homeownership Opportunity Program (HOP) is being phased out and no new commitments for HOP developments are being accepted. There are, however, a limited number of units still available and being marketed through this program. Details are provided in the HOP brochure.

TRANSLATIONS

Complete details concerning the MHFA's homeownership programs are contained in program brochures, which are available in nine languages (English, Spanish, Haitian Creole, French, Portuguese, Chinese, Lao, Khmer and Vietnamese).

*Annual Percentage Rate (APR)

Lenders are required to provide consumers with information as to the total cost and effective interest rate or APR associated with a loan. For the 5.25% mortgages, the APR is 6.02%. The APR is based on 95% loan to value, $100,000 loan for a term of 30 years, 2 points, a primary mortgage insurance premium of 1% for the first year, with renewal premiums of .49% for years 2-10 and .25% for years 11-15. APR may be higher or lower than noted above based on the lender's calculations and the premium charged by an insurer. Your participating lender should seek the lowest possible APR for your benefit.

Costs to the Homebuyer

In addition to the downpayment, you should expect to pay for certain mortgage application related expenses. You will pay most of these expenses when the loan is closed.

These charges represent 4% - 5% of the mortgage amount and include mortgage application and attorney fees, title insurance, filing and recording fees, standard bank settlement costs, and a bank origination fee not to exceed two percent of the mortgage loan.

If your downpayment on the house is less than 25% of its appraised value or the acquisition cost (whichever amount is lower) of the property, your loan must be insured by a primary mortgage insurer.

MHFA has created its own private mortgage insurance programs: a risk sharing program currently offered through PMI Mortgage Insurance Company, and an Agency self-insuring fund.

These programs result in a savings on your initial mortgage insurance premium and do not require you to have cash reserves equal to two months payments of principal, interest, taxes and insurance (PITI), as is common for most conventional mortgage loans.

The MHFA requires lead paint abatement on the purchase of all 2–4 unit properties that are bank- or regulator-held. However, financing is available through the Agency's Lead Paint Abatement Program. (See the MHFA's "Get the Lead Out" brochure for details.)

Soft Second Loan Program

MHFA is accepting applications for financing in connection with the Soft Second Loan Program announced recently by the Executive Office of Communities and Development to make it easier for lower-income households to qualify for mortgage financing.

Under the Soft Second Program, MHFA low-interest mortgages are available for up to 75% of the acquisition cost of the property. Second mortgages are provided by participating lenders at conventional mortgage interest rates for up to 20% of the acquisition cost of the property or $25,000, whichever is less. A buyer is qualified based only on the first mortgage amount which puts him in a better position to be approved for mortgage financing. Payments on the second mortgage are limited to interest only for the first 10 years, with a significant portion of the interest covered by a loan from public funds.

To qualify, first-time buyers must have incomes at or below 80% of the area median. Purchase price limits are $110,000 for condominiums and $125,000 for single-family detached homes.

FEDERAL RECAPTURE PROVISIONS:

Under current federal law, homebuyers who sell their houses within nine years may have to buy back some or all of the savings they have received as a result of the lower interest rate mortgage provided through MHFA. The amount of recapture owed is determined using a formula which considers household size and income at the time of sale; the year the home is sold; and how much the property has appreciated.

Under any circumstances, you must occupy as your principal residence the home purchased with the MHFA mortgage for as long as you have that mortgage.

You must be income eligible. The MHFA's income limits are based on federal law and vary depending upon the geographic area in which you are buying a home (see page 4). Recently, these income limits were increased as part of a larger effort to assist in the recovery of the real estate market.

Income eligibility is determined by gross annual household income. The gross annual household income is defined as your aggregate annualized gross income and that of all other people living in or expecting to live in the residence (or the unit being purchased therein) which you will be occupying at the time of the loan closing.

To calculate annualized gross income multiply gross monthly income by 12. Gross monthly income is the sum of monthly gross pay; any additional income from all sources, plus both taxable and non-taxable income including but not limited to any of the following: other earnings, overtime, part-time employment, bonuses, dividends, interest, annuities, pensions, Veterans Administration (VA) compensation, gross rental or lease income, commissions, deferred income, welfare payments, social security benefits, disability payments, alimony, support payments, public assistance, sick pay, unemployment compensation and income received from trusts from business activities and investments.

3. The acquisition cost of the home you buy must not exceed certain limits.

Home acquisition cost limits are set in accordance with Federal Law and vary depending on the geographic area in which you are buying and the type of home you are purchasing. These limits also were changed recently. The acquisition cost generally refers to the purchase price of a completed unit. It may also include home fixtures included in the purchase price and, in the case of an unfinished unit, the cost of completing construction. Current acquisition cost limits are defined on page 3.

4. You must have a good credit record. As part of the mortgage application review process, lenders will run a credit check on you, and then prepare a credit report. This report details your present financial condition and your history of meeting your monthly bill payments. For information on how you can obtain a copy of your credit record and for credit advice, contact the Consumer Credit Counseling Service at (617) 426-6644.

5. You also must have either an Accepted Offer to Purchase or an executed Purchase & Sale Agreement.

- An Accepted Offer to Purchase is a contract (signed by both the buyer and seller) which indicates the acceptance by the seller of a buyer's offer.
- A signed Purchase & Sale Agreement is a more detailed version of the above contract.

Both contracts are binding subject to certain contingencies which can be included in the agreements.

MHFA urges prospective borrowers to obtain professional advice prior to signing either of the above agreements. The Agency strongly advises that both of these documents contain a properly worded provision that makes the effectiveness of such an agreement contingent upon receipt of MHFA financing. MHFA also encourages borrowers to make such agreements contingent upon the receipt of a satisfactory property inspection report.

6. You must meet certain underwriting limits. Lenders will also look at two different ratios to see whether you meet the MHFA's underwriting limits. These ratios are described below. The charts are right can be used to calculate these ratios.

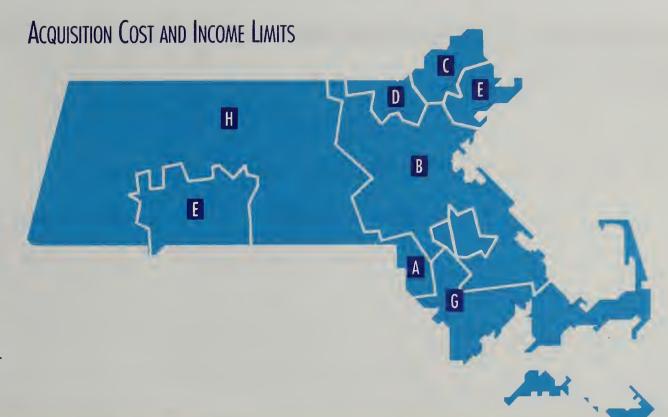

Housing to Income Ratio:

your total monthly housing expenses (principal, interest, property taxes, primary mortgage insurance, hazard insurance and condominium fees, if applicable) should not exceed 30 percent of your stable gross monthly income.

Payment to Income Ratio:

your monthly housing expense plus payments on all other installment debts having a life of more than 10 months, should not exceed 36 percent of your stable gross monthly income. Rental income from a two- to four-family house that you are purchasing will be considered in your ability to meet monthly mortgage payments; it will not be considered in determining if you meet the income limits for a mortgage loan.

How to Calculate Credit Ratios

To calculate your gross housing to income ratio, divide your total monthly housing expenses by your total monthly gross income. You can use the chart below.

Housing To	HOUSING TO INCOME RATIO
Monthly Stable Income (A) your stable gross monthly income your stable monthly overtime/bonuses stable secondary monthly income	Monthly Housing Expense (B) mortgoge poyments (including principal and interest) monthly fire and hozord insurance monthly real estate
stoble monthly dividend income	monthly primory mortgoge insuronce monthly homeowner's ossociation fee (portion of condominium fee opplicable to common oreos)
Totol (A)	B ÷ A = Housing to Income Rotio

Housing expense (Total B) divided by monthly income (Total A) equals your housing to income ratio. This ratio should not exceed 30 percent.

To calculate your payment to income ratio, add your total monthly housing expense (from Total B above) to your other monthly debt payments (include your monthly payments for all debts such as charge accounts, auto loans and educational loans, which have remaining terms of more than 10 payments) and then divide that number by your stable monthly income (Total A from above)

Use the chart below to calculate this ratio.

PAYMENT TO INCOME RATIO
Totol (B) Cor Loan Cor Loan	Credit Cord Poyments
Educotion Loon	Other Loan(s)
(÷ A =	Totol (C)
	Poyment to Income Rotio

Total monthly payments (Total C) divided by stable monthly income (Total A) equals the payment to income ratio. This ratio should not exceed 36 percent.

To qualify for a home mortgage from MHFA both of the ratios calculated above should not exceed the specified percentages.

Purchasers of 3-4 Unit Homes

As part of a larger effort to help buyers of multifamily homes handle the often complicated responsibilities of being a landlord, the MHFA requires homebuyer counseling for all purchasers of 3–4 unit properties. Buyers must complete training relating to 3–4 unit ownership and receive a certificate from an Agencyapproved homebuyer counseling program, prior to loan closing. (See the MHFA's Homebuyer Counseling brochure for a list of approved agencies.)

MCC

MORTGAGE CREDIT CERTIFICATE PROGRAM

AN OPTION FOR FIRST-TIME HOMEBUYERS

A SERVICE OF MASSACHUSETTS
HOUSING FINANCE AGENCY
AND THE EXECUTIVE OFFICE OF COMMUNITIES AND DEVELOPMENT

Por more than ten years, the Massachusetts Housing Finance Agency (MHFA) has offered a low-interest mortgage program to help low- and moderate-income families buy their first home. Now MHFA is offering another form of assistance – the Mortgage Credit Certificate (MCC) Program.

MCCs are not mortgages. They are federal tax credits that are used in tandem with conventional mortgage financing and that act to reduce the amount of federal income taxes that you pay every year. That tax savings will make it easier for you to afford your first home.

MCCs Allow You to Choose the Mortgage That's Best for You

You can use MCCs in conjunction with any conventional or government-backed mortgage offered by your lender – with the exception of low-interest mortgages provided through MHFA's Mortgage Revenue Bond Program. This way you can work with your lender to find the mortgage terms that are best for you.

The loan terms (interest rate, downpayment, underwriting requirements, fees, points, etc.) will depend on the lender and the type of loan you choose. Many lenders will underwrite loans according to their standard underwriting practices. The MHFA feels strongly that MCCs will work best when used in tandem with firsttime homebuyer programs being offered today by a number of different lenders statewide. These programs may offer, for example, low downpayment requirements, relaxed underwriting ratios or downpayment or closing cost assistance. Buyers should consider this when deciding which lender and type of mortgage to choose. The names of lenders that are participating in the MCC program are listed on the insert of this brochure.

MCCs Represent More Income for Monthly Payments

Normally, homeowners are allowed to adjust their income and deduct the interest paid on a home mortgage loan when calculating their income for tax purposes.

MCCs work a little differently. With the MCC, you can subtract 20% of the interest that you pay on your mortgage each year directly from the bottom-line of the federal taxes that you owe. The remaining 80% of the mortgage interest can still be deducted from your income for tax purposes as part of your itemized deductions.

That 20% credit represents a direct savings on your taxes. You may even adjust your federal W-4 income tax withholding forms so that you'll see the credit in the form of more takehome pay each month. (This may be necessary to qualify for the loan.)

Borrowers Eligible for MCCs

Borrowers who qualify for the program:

- are first-time homebuyers, defined as persons who have not had an ownership interest in a principal residence for the last three years. (This requirement has been waived with specific conditions in the federally-designated cities of Boston, Chelsea, Everett, Fall River, Lawrence, Lynn, North Adams and Somerville.)
- 2 meet income guidelines income guidelines have been raised and range from $46,000 to $57,000, depending upon household size and where in the Commonwealth the home is being purchased (see complete listing on pages 3 and 4.)
- buy homes that fall within the MHFA's acquisition cost limits. These limits have also been changed to meet newly-established federal limits. For existing single family homes the limits range from $94,000 to $161,000 depending on where the home is located. Other prices apply for newly constructed single family homes, condominiums and existing two-to-four-family properties. (See complete listings on pages 3 and 4.)

An Example of How a Mortgage Certificate Works

One of the ways a borrower can take the credit provided through the MCC Program is by reducing the amount of federal tax withheld from his paycheck each pay period. This makes more money available to the borrower each month to support mortgage payments and may help qualify an otherwise ineligible borrower for the mortgage of his choice.

How the MCC Works

The fallowing example illustrates how the MCC works. The example assumes:

- a purchase price of $100,000
- a dawnpayment of $5,000
- a $95,000 mortgage at the fixed rate af 8.5% far a term of 30 years

Tatal monthly hausing expense $876.30 (principal, interest, taxes and insurance)

Monthly MCC value $133.33

In this example, the borrower's housing expense equals $876.30. The MCC covers $133.33 af that amount. In this example, a barrawer would need an income af $35,052 ta suppart this mortgage without the credit, campared to an income af $29,719 ta suppart the martgage with the credit. This was calculated based on typical lenders' requirement that barrowers pay na mare than 30 percent of their incame for hausing expenses.

Other Important Facts About MCCs

1 Your MCC will be in effect for the life of your mortgage, as long as the house remains your principal residence. The tax credit will be calculated each year based on 20% of the interest you pay on your mortgage that year.

- 2. If your MCC gives you a tax credit that is greater than the amount of federal taxes that you owe, you cannot get a tax refund. Instead, you can carry the credit over and apply it to your future federal taxes, as long as you do so within three years.
- 3 You cannot use the MCC if you are assuming, replacing or refinancing an existing mortgage.

If you already have many other federal tax deductions or credits, you may not be able to use the full benefit of the MCC. In fact, some homebuyers may be better off obtaining a low-interest MHFA mortgage instead of the MCC. Our experience with MCCs, to date, shows that a typical family with standard tax deductions should earn at least $25,000 to take full advantage of the credit. If the buyer's income is below $25,000, he may not owe enough taxes to take full advantage of the MCC.

To project your annual tax liability first look at the taxes you paid last year. Estimate any changes to income and deductions that will occur in the current year and estimate what your adjusted income will be. Look in the most current tax tables to see what taxes you will owe. Borrowers can get assistance in this area from participating lenders and, if possible, are strongly encouraged to consult with a tax advisor.

MCC recipients should remember that it is their responsibility, not the MHFA's or the lender's, to take advantage of the credit. This can be done by either filing a revised W-4 federal income tax withholding form with your employer (which means less federal tax will be withheld from your check each pay period) or by simply taking the appropriate deduction at the end of the year when you file your taxes.

FEDERAL RECAPTURE PROVISIONS:

Under current federal law, homebuyers who sell their houses within nine years may have to pay back some or all of the savings they have received as a result of the MCC. The amount of recapture owed is determined using a formula which considers household size and income at the time of sale; the year the home is sold; and how much the property has appreciated.

Revising the Federal W-4 Form.

When the MCC is in hand, a borrower who wants to change his IRS Form W-4 should notify his employer. The W-4 allows the borrower to increase exemptions – in order to reduce the amount of tax withheld – to match the credit provided through the MCC. Borrowers should attach a copy of their Mortgage Credit Certificate to their W-4 form as back-up for the increase in exemptions. If a borrower's employer is unfamiliar with this process, the borrower should refer him to Schedule 15 in IRS Circular E.

Which Federal Income Tax Forms to Complete. MCC recipients must complete IRS Form 8396 each year (assists in determining the amount of the annual credit) and attach to it their Form 1040.

The credit also must be noted on IRS Schedule A. This form requires you to reduce your allowable mortgage interest deduction by the amount of the tax credit.

How to Apply for MCCs

Before looking for a house, you should talk with a local realtor or lender who can help determine how much of a house you can afford. Once that determination is made, and you find a house you want to buy and have it inspected, you'll need to complete a Purchase and Sale Agreement or Offer to Purchase. The next step is to meet with your lender to apply for a mortgage and the MCC Program.

As mentioned previously, a list of lenders participating in the MCC program is provided on the insert to the brochure. As part of this process, your lender will underwrite the mortgage loan (using the lender's existing underwriting standards) and determine that you meet the requirements of the MCC Program. When that has been done, your lender will contact the MHFA to make sure MCCs are available and to reserve one for you for up to a maximum of 60 days.

Your lender will then send information to MHFA to confirm your eligibility for a MCC. Once your mortgage and MCC applications have been approved, your lender will contact you to schedule a mortgage loan closing date. The MCC document will be mailed to you by MHFA approximately two weeks after your mortgage loan closing.

Costs to the Homebuyer

When applying for the MCC, borrowers will be charged a non-refundable MHFA administrative fee by lenders of $150.

There also will be customary closing costs and mortgage application fees charged by the lender as there would be with any conventional mortgage loan. These are discussed briefly in the section about kinds of mortgages with which MCCs can be used. Your lender should provide you with a complete description of costs as part of the mortgage loan application process.

Once that determination is made, and you find a house you want to buy and have it inspected, you'll need to complete a Purchase and Sale Agreement or Offer to Purchase. The next step is to meet with your lender to apply for a mortgage and the MCC Program.

As mentioned previously, a list of lenders participating in the MCC program is provided on the insert to the brochure. As part of this process, your lender will underwrite the mortgage loan (using the lender's existing underwriting standards) and determine that you meet the requirements of the MCC Program. When that has been done, your lender will contact the MHFA to make sure MCCs are available and to reserve one for you for up to a maximum of 60 days.

Your lender will then send information to MHFA to confirm your eligibility for a MCC. Once your mortgage and MCC applications have been approved, your lender will contact you to schedule a mortgage loan closing date. The MCC document will be mailed to you by MHFA approximately two weeks after your mortgage loan closing.

Costs to the Homebuyer

When applying for the MCC, borrowers will be charged a non-refundable MHFA administrative fee by lenders of $150.

There also will be customary closing costs and mortgage application fees charged by the lender as there would be with any conventional mortgage loan. These are discussed briefly in the section about kinds of mortgages with which MCCs can be used. Your lender should provide you with a complete description of costs as part of the mortgage loan application process.

Acquisition SET-ASIDE PROGRAM

FOR REO OR SLOW MOVING RESIDENTIAL DEVELOPMENTS

A SERVICE OF THE EXECUTIVE OFFICE OF COMMUNITIES AND DEVELOPMENT AND MASSACHUSETTS HOUSING FINANCE AGENCY

f you are a lender, builder, marketing agent, developer or federal regulator who has foreclosed or slow moving residential developments or a prospective first-time homebuyer, you can put the "ASAP Advantage" to work for you.

Advantages & Requirements

Through the ASAP program, property sellers can secure MHFA financing - at very attractive rates - to make their units more marketable and jump-start sales. First-time buyers under ASAP benefit from affordably priced homes, fixed, low-rate MHFA mortgages and flexible underwriting criteria which reduce up-front costs and make it easier to qualify.

The following chart summarizes the advantages and requirements of the ASAP program for both sellers and first-time homebuyers.

Eligible Properties

Developments which qualify for ASAP financing include all of the following:

- newly-constructed, single-family detached homes, duplexes, fee-simple townhouses and condominiums
- bank foreclosures
- developments with fewer than 30% investorowned units
- Newly-constructed or converted units which are being rented, temporarily, while buyers are being sought.

All of the ASAP units must contain at least 700 square feet of living space and one bedroom and must fall within the program price guidelines noted on page 2.

ASAP is specifically targeted to REO or slow moving developments that provide more than 4 units. Assistance for individual, scattered site REO properties is available through MHFA's REO Program.

First-time Homebuyers

- Low interest rate mortgage which results in lower monthly payments
- Low, 5% downpayment requirements (half of which can be a gift or grant)
- Downpayment and closing cost assistance for qualified buyers
- Flexible underwriting criteria which makes it easier for first-time buyers to qualify including 30%/36% ratios
- Mortgage insurance options, important for buyers making low downpayments
- Moderately-priced homes

REQUIREMENTS

- Own or be marketing a development that meets property eligibility and sales price guidelines
- Complete an ASAP application
- First-time homebuyer

Income/Sales Price Guidelines

As part of a larger effort to assist in the state's economic recovery, and given the enormous volume of unsold properties which need to be returned to productive use, the income and sales price guidelines for ASAP have been changed which means more prospective buyers will be eligible to take advantage of this opportunity. These new guidelines are as follows:

HOW TO APPLY

Applications from lenders, builders, marketing agents, developers and regulators for a set-aside of ASAP financing are accepted on an ongoing basis. For an application form and complete program guidelines, interested parties can contact:

MHFA's Office of Single Family Programs 50 Milk Street Boston MA 02109 Tel. (617) 451-2766

Prospective buyers can use that same number to obtain additional copies of this brochure as well as a listing of current ASAP developments and their marketing agents.

ACCESSING AFFORDABLE HOUSING OPPORTUNITIES IN THE CURRENT REAL ESTATE MARKET

A Service of the Executive Office of Communities and Development and Massachusetts Housing Finance Agency enders, realtors and federal agencies with foreclosed properties to market and prospective first-time homebuyers can benefit from MHFA's "REO Resource".

Through the REO program, lenders and/or federal regulators can secure MHFA financing – at very attractive rates – to use as a marketing incentive and stimulate sales. Low- and moderate-income first-time buyers who purchase properties through the REO Program benefit from fixed, low-rate MHFA mortgages and flexible underwriting criteria which reduce up-front costs and make it easier to qualify.

The chart below summarizes the advantages and requirements of the REO program for both sellers and first-time homebuyers.

Eligible Properties

All 1-4 unit REO properties meeting MHFA's unit eligibility and cost guidelines are eligible for this program. Mortgages for both the purchase and rehabilitation of properties are available as are mortgages for the purchase of 2–4 family homes where an owner will occupy one of the units and help support mortgage payments from rental income from the remaining units.

Property Inspections

Before bidding on or making an offer to purchase an REO property, prospective buyers are cautioned to get the property inspected and to secure estimates of needed repairs. This is particularly important since many REO properties may be in need of substantial rehabilitation or require asbestos or lead paint removal. In some areas, local housing rehabilitation agencies may be available to assist buyers in identifying and carrying out needed repairs. The MHFA requires lead paint abatement on the purchase of all 2-4 unit properties that are bank-or regulator-held. However, financing is available through the Agency's Lead Paint Abatement Program. (See the MHFA's "Get the Lead Out" brochure for details.)

ADVANTAGES

Banks, realtors, mortgage companies, regulators, FNMA, FHLMC, FHA, VA

- Low cost financing to offer as a marketing incentive
- Increased income/sales price limits which will create a larger pool of applicants and properties
- Increased marketability which will speed sales
- Flexible underwriting requirements for condominiums
- Availability of purchase/rehab financing

First-time Homebuyers

- Low interest rate mortgage which results in lower monthly payments
- Low, 5% downpayment requirements (half of which can be a gift or grant)
- Downpayment and closing cost assistance for qualified buyers
- Flexible underwriting criteria which makes it easier for first-time buyers to qualify including 30%/36% ratios
- Mortgage insurance options, important for buyers making low downpayments
- Moderately-priced homes

REQUIREMENTS

■ Be holding 1–4 unit properties that meet property eligibility and sales price guidelines

■ First-time homebuyer

- Creditworthy
- Meet income guidélines

FEDERAL RECAPTURE PROVISIONS:

Under current federal law, homebuyers who sell their house within nine years may have to pay back some or all of the savings they have received as a result of the lower interest rate mortgage provided through MHFA. The amount of recapture owed is determined using a formula which considers household size and income at the time of sale; the year the home is sold; and how much the property has appreciated.

How to Apply for MHFA Mortgages

To apply you must have an executed Purchase & Sale or an Accepted Offer to Purchase Agreement. In addition, you must have signed copies of your Federal Income Tax Returns for the past three years to verify your first time owner status to the mortgage department of a participating lender. Qualified buyers should contact an approved MHFA lender at the time they are ready to apply for a mortgage.

1. Except in federally-targeted areas, you must be a first-time homebuyer. A first-time homebuyer is defined as someone who has not had an ownership interest in a principal residence in the past three years.

Federally targeted areas in which you do not have to be a first-time buyer are Boston, Chelsea, Everett, Fall River, Lawrence, Lynn, North Adams and Somerville. If you are not a first time buyer but wish to purchase REO property in one of these communities, you must sell your present home and use some of the proceeds from that sale to buy the home you are financing with the MHFA mortgage loan.

Under any circumstances, you must occupy as your principal residence the home purchased with the MHFA mortgage for as long as you have that mortgage.

2. You must be income eligible. As part of a larger effort to assist in the state's economic recovery, and given the enormous volume of unsold properties which need to be returned to productive use, the income guidelines for REO have been increased which means more prospective buyers will be eligible to take advantage of this opportunity. These increases were approved by the MHFA on a temporary basis and are shown on page 3.

- 3. You must buy a home priced with certain acquisition limits. Home acquisition cost limits are set in accordance with Federal Law and vary depending on the geographic area in which you are buying and the type of home you are purchasing. These limits also were changed recently to capture more of the state's excess housing inventory. The acquisition cost generally refers to the purchase price of a completed unit. It may also include home fixtures included in the purchase price and, in the case of an unfinished unit, the cost of completing construction. A complete listing of current limits is provided on page 3.
- 4. You must have a good credit record.

 As part of the mortgage application review process, lenders will run a credit check on you, and then prepare a credit report. This report details your present financial condition and your history of meeting your monthly bill payments. For information on how you can obtain a copy of your credit record and for credit advice, contact the Consumer Credit Counseling Service at (617) 426-6644.

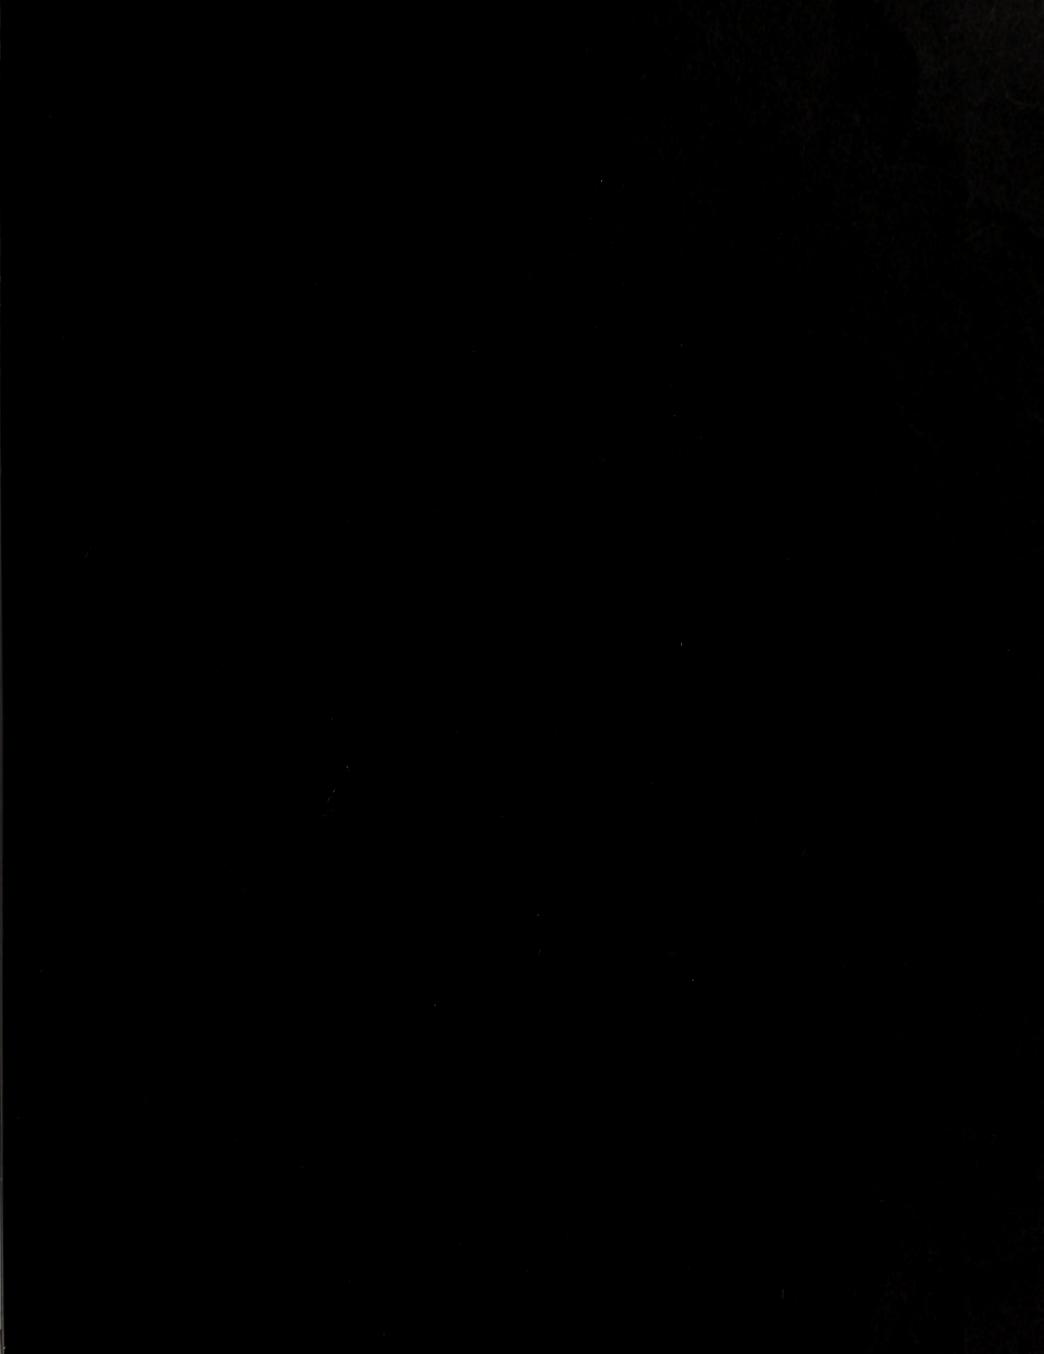

Refer to the map shown here to determine which market area the home you are buying is located in. The letters in the map correspond to the letters next to the market areas listed in the chart. If you are unsure about which market area you are buying in, refer to the alphabetical list of communities on page 4. The letter to the right of the community will correspond with the letter identifying the market area on the chart.

FEDERAL RECAPTURE PROVISIONS:

Under current federal law, homebuyers who sell their houses within nine years may have to buy back some or all of the savings they have received as a result of the lower interest rate mortgage provided through MHFA. The amount of recapture owed is determined using a formula which considers household size and income at the time of sale; the year the home is sold; and how much the property has appreciated.

General Eligibility Guidelines

In addition to completing an approved homebuyer counseling program, to secure mortgage financing you must meet the following general eligibility guidelines:

1. Except in federally-targeted areas, you must be a first-time homebuyer.

A first-time homebuyer is defined as someone who has not had an ownership interest in a principal residence in the past three years.

Federally-targeted areas in which you do not have to be a first-time buyer are Boston, Chelsea, Everett, Fall River, Lawrence, Lynn, North Adams and Somerville. If you are not a first-time buyer and wish to purchase a property in one of these communities, you must sell your present home and use some of the proceeds from that sale to buy the home you are financing with the MHFA mortgage loan.

Under any circumstances, you must occupy as your principal residence the home purchased with the MHFA mortgage for as long as you have that mortgage.

2 You must be income eligible. The MHFA's income limits are based on federal law and vary depending upon the geographic area in which you are buying a home (see page 3). Recently, these income limits were increased as part of a larger effort to assist in the recovery of the real estate market.

Income eligibility is determined by Gross Annual Household Income. The Gross Annual Household Income is defined as your aggregate annual gross income and that of all other people living in or expecting to live in the residence (or the unit being purchased therein) which you will be occupying at the time of the loan closing.

To calculate annualized gross income, multiply gross monthly income by 12. Gross monthly income is the sum of monthly gross pay; any additional income from all sources, plus both taxable and non-taxable income including but not limited to any of the following: other earnings, overtime, part-time employment, bonuses, dividends, interest, annuities, pensions, Veterans Administration (VA) compensation, gross rental or lease income (or in the case of Qualified Rehabilitation Loans, net rental or lease income from units in the structure to be financed), commissions, deferred income, welfare payments, social security benefits, disability payments, alimony, support payments, public assistance, sick pay, unemployment compensation and income received from trusts from business activities and investments.

3. The acquisition cost of the home you buy must not exceed certain limits.

Home acquisition cost limits are set in accordance with Federal Law and vary depending on the geographic area in which you are buying and the type of home you are purchasing. These limits also were increased recently. The acquisition cost generally refers to the purchase price of a completed unit. It may also include home fixtures included in the purchase price and, in the case of an unfinished unit, the cost of completing construction. Current acquisition cost limits are defined on page 3.

4 You must have a good credit record.

As part of the mortgage application review process, lenders will run a credit check on you, and then prepare a credit report. This report details your present financial condition and your history of meeting your monthly bill payments. For information on how you can obtain a copy of your credit record and for credit advice, contact the Consumer Credit Counseling Service at (617) 426-6644.

5. You also must have either an Accepted Offer to Purchase or an executed Purchase & Sale Agreement.

- An Accepted Offer to Purchase is a contract (signed by both the buyer and seller) which indicates the acceptance by the seller of a buyer's offer.
- A signed Purchase & Sale Agreement is a more detailed version of the above contract.

Both contracts are binding subject to certain contingencies which can be included in the agreements.

MHFA urges prospective borrowers to obtain professional advice prior to signing either of the above agreements. The Agency strongly advises that both of these documents contain a properly worded provision that makes the effectiveness of such an agreement contingent upon receipt of MHFA financing. MHFA also encourages borrowers to make such agreements contingent upon the receipt of a satisfactory property inspection report.

6. You must meet certain underwriting limits. Lenders will also look at two different ratios to see whether you meet the MHFA's underwriting limits. More detail on these two ratios is provided below.

Housing to Income Ratio:

your total monthly housing expenses (principal, interest, property taxes, primary mortgage insurance, hazard insurance and condominium fees, if applicable) should not exceed 30 percent of your stable gross monthly income.

Payment to Income Ratio:

■ your monthly housing expense plus payments on all other installment debts having a life of more than 10 months, should not exceed 36 percent of your stable gross monthly income. Rental income from a two- to four-family house that you are purchasing will be considered in your ability to meet monthly mortgage payments, it will not be considered in determining if you meet the income limits for a mortgage loan.

How to Calculate Credit Ratios

To calculate your gross housing to income ratio, divide your total monthly housing expenses by your total monthly gross income. You can use the chart below.

	ICOME RATIO
raur stoble gross (in anthly incame (in a roble monthly incame (in a roble monthly incame in a roble secondary in anthly incame in a roble monthly dividend incame in a roble monthly incame in a roble	Annthly Housing Expense (B) Partgage payments Including principal Ind interest) Panthly fire ond Partgage insuronce Panthly real estate Partgage insurance Panthly hameawner's Partgage insurance Particological fee Particological formula fee Particological fee P

Housing expense (Total B) divided by monthly income (Total A) equals your housing to income ratio. This ratio should not exeed 30 percent.

To calculate your payment to income ratio, add your total monthly housing expense (from Total B) to your other monthly debt payments (include your monthly payments for all debts such as charge accounts, auto loans and educational loans, which have remaining terms of more than 10 payments) and then divide that number by your stable monthly income (Total A)

Use the chart below to calculate this ratio.

PAYMENT TO INCOME RATIO
Tatal (B) Car Loan	Credit Card Poyments
Cor Loan
Educotion Loon	Other Laan(s)
(÷ A = .	Tatal (C)
C + A = _	Poyment to Incame Rotio

Total monthly payments (Total C) divided by stable monthly income (Total A) equals the payment to income ratio. This ratio should not exceed 36 percent.

To qualify for a home mortgage from MHFA both of the ratios calculated above should not exceed the specified percentages.

Purchasers of 3-4 Unit Homes

As part of a larger effort to help buyers of multifamily homes handle the often complicated responsibilities of being a landlord, the MHFA requires homebuyer counseling for all purchasers of 3–4 unit properties. Buyers must complete training relating to 3–4 unit ownership and receive a certificate from an Agencyapproved homebuyer counseling program, prior to loan closing. (See a Homebuyer Counseling list of approved agencies.)

FEDERAL RECAPTURE PROVISIONS:

Under current federal law, homebuyers who sell their houses within nine years may have to buy back some or all of the savings they have received as a result of the lower interest rate mortgage provided through MHFA. The amount of recapture owed is determined using a formula which considers household size and income at the time of sale; the year the home is sold; and how much the property has appreciated.

Refer to the map shown here to determine which market area the home you are buying is lacated in. The letters in the map carrespond to the letters next to the market areas listed in the chart. If you are unsure about which market area you are buying in, refer to the alphabetical list of communities on page 4. The letter to the right of the cammunity will carrespond with the letter identifying the market area on the chart.

NEIGHBORHOOD REHABILITATION PROGRAM

Maintaining and Revitalizing Our Communities

A Service of the Executive Office of Communities and Development and Massachusetts Housing Finance Agency If you want to buy a house that is in need of repair, or you already own one that requires substantial renovation, you may be eligible to receive a low-interest loan from the Massachusetts Housing Finance Agency (MHFA). As part of its effort to preserve and revitalize Massachusetts communities, the MHFA, in cooperation with the Executive Office of Communities and Development (EOCD), has developed the Neighborhood Rehabilitation Program.

Two forms of fixed-rate financing are available through this program. The first is mortgage financing for buyers of homes needing repair in targeted neighborhoods. A second form of financing, known as "Qualified Rehabilitation," is available for existing homeowners who need to make major home improvements, in excess of $15,000.

The MHFA offers long-term, fixed-rate mortgage financing with both the Neighborhood Rehabilitation and Qualified Rehabilitation Programs. Downpayments of only five percent are required to purchase property and flexible underwriting guidelines are offered.

MHFA financing under the Neighborhood Rehabilitation Program is distributed in cooperation with local housing and community development groups across Massachusetts.

BENEFITS OF THE NEIGHBORHOOD REHABILITATION PROGRAM

For persons who want to buy and rehabilitate a home:

- financing to pay for a house and necessary repairs
- lang-term, fixed-rate martgage financing
- a low 5% downpayment requirement
- help with laan application and repair wark

These "rehabilitation agencies" will assist you in determining your eligibility, in securing your loan, and in assessing and completing needed renovation. In many cases, the rehabilitation agencies make available local resources to further reduce the costs of homeownership for low- and moderate-income households.

LOANS TO BUY AND REHABILITATE A HOME

To secure a mortgage to purchase and rehabilitate a home, you must buy a house in need of repair in a locally designated neighborhood. Your downpayment and mortgage loan will cover the cost of the home plus the cost of rehabilitation. The cost of repairs and the price of the house, combined, must fall within the MHFA's Acquisition Cost Limits. While basic eligibility guidelines are discussed below, interested homeowners should contact a local rehabilitation agency (see list on last page) for complete details.

General Eligibility Guidelines

To qualify for a mortgage to buy and rehabilitate a home, you must meet the following guidelines:

1. Except in federally-targeted areas, you must be a first-time homebuyer.

A first-time homebuyer is defined as someone who has not had an ownership interest in a principal residence in the past three years. Federally-targeted areas in which you do not have to be a first-time buyer are Boston, Chelsea, Everett, Fall River, Lawrence, Lynn, North Adams and Somerville.

If you're not a first-time buyer purchasing a home in one of these communities, you must sell your present home and use some of the proceeds from that sale to buy the home you are financing with the MHFA mortgage loan. Under any circumstances, you must occupy as your principal residence the home purchased with the MHFA mortgage for as long as you have that mortgage.

2 You must be income eligible. MHFA's income limits (see chart on page 6) are based on federal law and vary depending upon the geographic area in which you are buying a home.

Income eligibility is determined by Gross Annual Household Income. The Gross Annual Household Income is defined as your aggregate annual gross income and that of all other people living in or expecting to live in the residence being purchased and which you will be occupying from the time of the loan closing. The income of all children 18 years of age or under (or 21 years, if they are full-time students) is excluded from consideration.

To calculate annual gross income, multiply gross monthly income by 12. Gross monthly income is the sum of monthly gross pay plus income from all other sources, including but not limited to any of the following: other earnings, overtime, part-time employment, bonuses, dividends, interest, annuities, pensions, Veterans Administration (VA) compensation, gross rental or lease income, commissions, deferred income, welfare payments, social security benefits, disability payments and alimony, support payments, public assistance, sick pay, unemployment compensation, and income received from trusts, from business activities and investments.

3. You must buy a one- to four-family house that is located in an area targeted for revitalization by a local rehabilitation agency. Consult your local rehabilitation agency to make sure that the property you have selected is located in an area that qualifies you to receive financing.

Below are the minimum dollar amounts of renovation permitted. They are based on the number of units in the property.

Single Family $3,000 or 10% of the loan amount, whichever is less

Two Family $4,000 or 10% of the loan amount, whichever is less

Three Family $5,000 or 10% of the loan amount, whichever is less

Four Family $6,000 or 10% of the loan amount, whichever is less

4. The acquisition cost of the home you buy must not exceed certain limits. Home acquisition cost limits (see chart on page 6) are set in accordance with Federal Law and vary depending on the geographic area in of the property plus the cost of rehabilitating it. This amount cannot exceed limits based on unit size and location of the property.

You must have a good credit record.

As part of the mortgage application review.

which you're buying and the type of home you're purchasing. Under this program, the acquisition cost is equal to the purchase price

As part of the mortgage application review process, lenders will run a credit check on you, and then prepare a credit report. This report details your present financial condition and your history of meeting your monthly bill payments. For information on how you can obtain a copy of your credit record and for credit advice, contact the Consumer Credit Counseling Service at (617) 426-6644.

6. You also must have either an Accepted Offer to Purchase or an executed Purchase & Sale Agreement.

- An Accepted Offer to Purchase is a contract (signed by both the buyer and seller) which indicates the acceptance by the seller of a buyer's offer.
- A signed Purchase & Sale Agreement is a more detailed version of the above contract.

Both contracts are binding subject to certain contingencies which can be included in the agreements.

MHFA urges prospective borrowers to obtain professional advice prior to signing either of the above agreements. The Agency strongly advises that both of these documents contain a properly worded provision that makes the effectiveness of such an agreement contingent upon receipt of MHFA financing. MHFA also encourages borrowers to make such agreements contingent upon the receipt of a satisfactory property inspection report.

7. You must meet certain underwriting limits. Lenders will also look at two different ratios to see whether you meet the MHFA's underwriting limits. These ratios are described below. The chart at right can be used to calculate these ratios.

Housing to Income Ratio:

■ your total monthly housing expenses (principal, interest, property taxes, primary mortgage insurance, hazard insurance and condominium fees, if applicable) should not exceed 30 percent of your stable gross monthly income.

Payment to Income Ratio:

■ your monthly housing expense plus payments on all other installment debts having a life of more than 10 months, should not exceed 36 percent of your stable gross monthly income. Rental income from a two- to four-family house that you are purchasing will be considered in your ability to meet monthly mortgage payments; it will not be considered in determining if you meet the income limits for a mortgage loan. (Use the charts on page 8 to calculate your credit ratios.)

How to Calculate Credit Ratios

To calculate your gross housing to income ratio, divide your total monthly housing expenses by your total monthly gross income. You can use the chart below.

HOUSING TO INCOME RATIO
Monthly Stable Income (A) your stoble gross monthly income your stoble monthly overtime/bonuses stoble secondory monthly income stoble monthly dividend income Total (A)	Monthly Housing Expense (B) mortgoge poyments (including principol ond interest) monthly fire ond hozord insuronce monthly reol estote toxes monthly primory mortgoge insuronce monthly homeowner's ossociotion fee (portion of condominium fee opplicable to common areas) Total (B) B ÷ A = Housing to Income Rotio

Housing expense (Total B) divided by monthly income (Total A) equals your housing to income ratio. This ratio should not exceed 30 percent.

To calculate your payment to income ratio, add your total monthly housing expense (from Total B above) to your other monthly debt payments (include your monthly payments for all debts such as charge accounts, auto loans and educational loans, which have remaining terms of more than 10 payments) and then divide that number by your stable monthly income (Total A from above)

Use the chart below to calculate this ratio.

PAYMENT TO INCOME RATIO
Totol (B) Cor Loon	Credit Cord Poyments
Educotion Loon	Other Loon(s)
(÷ A = _	Totol (C)
	Poyment to Income Rotio

Total monthly payments (Total C) divided by stable monthly income (Total A) equals the payment to income ratio. This ratio should not exceed 36 percent.

To qualify for a home mortgage from MHFA both of the ratios calculated above should not exceed the specified percentages.

Purchasers of 3-4 Unit Homes

As part of a larger effort to help buyers of multifamily homes handle the often complicated responsibilities of being a landlord, the MHFA requires homebuyer counseling for all purchasers of 3–4 unit properties. Buyers must complete training relating to 3–4 unit ownership and receive a certificate from an Agencyapproved homebuyer counseling program, prior to loan closing. (See the MHFA's Homebuyer Counseling brochure for a list of approved agencies.)

Costs to the Homebuyer

In addition to the downpayment, you should expect to pay for certain mortgage application related expenses. You'll pay most of these expenses when the loan is closed.

These charges represent 4% - 5% of the mortgage amount and include mortgage application and attorney fees, title insurance, filing and recording fees, standard bank settlement costs, and a bank origination fee not to exceed two percent of the mortgage loan.

If your downpayment on the house is less than 25% of its appraised value or the acquisition cost (whichever amount is lower) of the property, your loan must be insured by a primary mortgage insurer.

The MHFA has created its own private mortgage insurance program: to assist qualified buyers. These programs make it easier for buyers to secure necessary coverage and require less cash from buyers at closing.

The MHFA requires lead paint abatement on the purchase of all 2–4 unit properties that are bank- or regulator-held. However, financing is available through the Agency's Lead Paint Abatement Program. (See the MHFA's "Get the Lead Out" brochure for details.)

FEDERAL RECAPTURE PROVISIONS:

Under current federal law, homebuyers who sell their houses within nine years may have to buy back some or all of the savings they have received as a result of the lower interest rate mortgage provided through MHFA. The amount of recapture owed is determined using a formula which considers household size and income at the time of sale; the year the home is sold; and how much the property has appreciated.

LOANS TO MAKE MAJOR HOME IMPROVEMENTS

If you own a home that is at least 20 years old and you need to refinance to pay for substantial amounts of renovation, a Qualified Rehabilitation Loan may be right for you. These loans, which generally begin at $15,000, are offered to people who already own their homes, rather than to first-time homebuyers. Qualified Rehabilitation loans cover a range of major home improvements, from the insulation of walls and installation of windows, to the replacement of a kitchen or bath or plumbing system. (If you have a renovation project that costs less than $15,000, see details regarding the MHFA's Home Improvement Loan Program, known as HILP.)

Low interest funds are targeted to owner-occupants of one- to four-family homes. No downpayment is required and, in some cases, you may be able to include your closing costs in the mortgage. These mortgages also are available through participating local rehabilitation agencies. These agencies will walk you through the entire mortgage application and home rehabilitation process, which includes helping you in identifying, estimating, contracting for and overseeing the required renovations.

General Eligibility Guidelines

To secure a Qualified Rehabilitation Loan, you must satisfy many of the same requirements described earlier for purchase and rehabilitation loans. Complete eligibility guidelines for both programs should be obtained from the local rehabilitation agency. Basic requirements for a Qualified Rehabilitation Loan are as follows:

- 1 The property being rehabilitated must be a one- to four-family home, occupied by the owner and at least 20 years old.
- 2. The borrower must occupy the home prior to the loan closing and must continue to occupy the home, as his/her primary residence, for the life of the MHFA mortgage.
- 3. The borrower must meet MHFA income guidelines (see chart on page 6).
- 4. The dollar amount of rehabilitation required must equal at least 25% of the owner's adjusted basis in the property, as of the date of completion of the rehabilitation. Generally, "basis" represents the original cost of the home plus certain closing costs and home improvements (including the rehabilitation to be financed by MHFA) made by the owners. In addition, the borrower's adjusted basis in the property, as of the date of completion of the rehabilitation, cannot exceed the MHFA's acquisition cost limits.

- 5. Loans cannot be used to add rooms; create an apartment within an existing home; or add a room onto an existing home to create an apartment. A local rehabilitation agency will provide more specific federal guidelines relating to external/internal walls and internal structural framework that must be maintained in the renovation process.
- 6. The minimum loan amount is $15,000; the maximum loan amount cannot exceed 95% of the MHFA's acquisition cost limits or the appraised value of the property after rehabilitation, whichever is less. In determining your eligibility, a local rehabilitation agency will help you complete worksheets to define the dollar amount of rehabilitation required and the loan limits you must meet to qualify.

HOW JOHN AND MARY WILLIAMS GOT THEIR LOAN

John and Mary Williams purchased a 50-year-old, three-family home in Mattapan five years ago. The Williams occupy one of the units and rent the other two.

The Williams secured a Qualified Rehabilitation Loan of $116,373. The loan included $66,873 to pay off the Smith's original mortgage; $3,000 for closing costs; and $46,500 for major home improvements including:

- the replacement of all heating, electrical and plumbing systems, including fixtures;
- the patching or rebuilding of ceilings, walls, floors, steps and exterior porches to bring them in line with local building codes;
- the replacement of exterior doors and windows;

- the installation of new kitchen cabinets in all units;
- removing lead paint from the entire dwelling; and
- repainting the exterior of the house.

The Williams learned about Qualified Rehabilitation Loans through a local housing agency participating in the MHFA's Neighborhood Rehabilitation Program. The agency also helped the Williams in identifying and estimating improvements; getting bids from and selecting a contractor; completing documentation required by the MHFA and/or the participating lender processing the loan; and overseeing the renovation work and payments made to the contractor. This housing agency also helped structure the loan so it was affordable, given the Williams' income.

HOME IMPROVEMENT LOAN PROGRAM

HELPING HOMEOWNERS CARE FOR THEIR PROPERTY

ince its beginning, more than 1,000 low- and moderate-income homeowners have been assisted by the Home Improvement Loan Program (HILP) offered by the Massachusetts Housing Finance Agency (MHFA), in cooperation with the Executive Office of Communities and Development (EOCD). Through the program, eligible homeowners can secure loans of up to $15,000 – at the fixed interest rate of 5% (5.63% APR*) - to make needed improvements to their homes. Improvements can range from the repair of code violations to the replacement of a roof or a boiler. Half of the available funds are reserved for elderly homeowners or for households who need to make their homes accessible to a disabled family member. This includes "those persons with a physical or mental disability that substantially limits one or more of a person's major life activities - including, but not limited to, caring for one's self, performing manual tasks, walking, seeing, hearing, speaking, breathing, learning and working."

HILP loans are available for one- to four-unit owner-occupied homes and are available only through local participating rehabilitation agencies (see list on page 3). The local rehabilitation agencies will assist the borrower in virtually every step of the loan application and home improvement process.

Financing Terms

Under HILP, loans are available at the fixed interest rate of 5% (5.63% APR*). The minimum loan amount is $2,500 and the maximum is $15,000, although most loans are likely to be about $12,000. The minimum loan amount may be waived if the primary purpose of the loan is for weather-ization or accessibility-related improvements. Loan terms range from six months to 15 years and are adjusted to accommodate the borrower's monthly expenses and overall debt service. In most cases, longer terms are approved for larger loan amounts, as follows:

LOAN AMOUNT	Term
$ 2,500 - $ 5,000	5 years
5,000 — 10,000	10 years
10,000 — 15,000	15 years

Role of Local Housing Agencies

HILP loans. are initiated statewide only through MHFA-designated, participating rehabilitation agencies which will:

- 1. offer borrower financial counseling and determine eligibility;
- 2. inspect property to be improved to identify work required and the cost of that work;
- 3. assist borrower in locating/interviewing contractors;
- 4. direct borrower to a participating lender;
- 5. establish an escrow account for home improvement loan funds, monitor construction, and authorize the withdrawal of funds as work progresses; and,
- 6. inspect property upon completion of improvements and certify work has been done in accordance with specifications.

A Service of the Executive Office of Communities and Development and Massachusetts Housing Finance Agency

General Income Guidelines

In order to qualify for HILP financing, borrowers most have a good credit record, stable income and less than 50 percent of net monthly income committed as debt (including, but not limited to mortgage payments, property taxes, insurance, revolving charge accounts and other loans). Borrowers also must meet the following income guidelines:

	One Person Household	Two or More Person Household
Boston Area	$38,000	$43,000
Lawrence-Haverhill Area	$38,000	$40,200
Lowell Area	$38,000	$42,400
Salem-Gloucester Area	$38,000	$43,700
Balance of State	$38,000	$39,600

Eligible Properties

To qualify for HILP financing, the property being improved must be a one- to fourfamily home, occupied by the borrower as a principal residence.

No more than 15 percent of the property may be used for business purposes.

A single family home must have been completed and occupied for more than 90 days prior to the date of the loan application and a two- to four-family dwelling must have been used for residential purposes for at least five years prior to the date on which the loan is closed.

Types of Improvements Homeowners Can Make

HILP loans may be used for the following purposes:

- to enhance basic living conditions, or safety or energy efficiency, by adding, altering renovating or repairing a home;
- 2. to make a dwelling fully accessible for household members who have a permanent physical disability, by building a ramp or wheel-in-shower or by widening doors;
- 3. to bring a home up to standards required by state or local building codes, by repairing such items as wiring, broken pipes, broken steps, a faulty heating system or leaky roof;
- 4. to install approved solar domestic, hot water heaters and solar space heating systems; and,
- 5. to install wood burning furnaces, which are attached to existing duct work and provide central heating for the entire structure.

Loans may not be used for improvements to out-buildings or commercial or mixed-use buildings, for fireplaces or woodburning stoves, or for recreational or entertainment facilities.

For major home improvements, in excess of $15,000, ask about the MHFA's Qualified Rehabilitation Program. For information regarding financing for lead paint abatement, ask about the MHFA's Get the Lead Out Program.

*APR (Annual Percentage Rate)

Lenders are required to provide consumers with information as to the total cost and effective interest rate, or Annual Percentage Rate, associated with a loan. For the 5% HILP loan, the APR is 5.63%, which may be higher or lower than noted, based on the lender's calculations. Under the MHFA's HILP program, the APR is determined by the loan contract (note) interest rate of 5% and the fee charged to the borrower by a local rehabilitation agency.

The local rehabilitation agency fee will be 4% of the amount of the loan. The maximum fee is $600 and the minimum fee is $200. The APR will vary depending on the amount and term of the HILP loan and the fee charged by the local rehabilitation agency. Generally, the APR will increase as the amount/term of the loan decreases.

An example of the APR for the maximum loan of $15,000 for the HILP program follows: a 5.0% loan for 15 years in the amount of $15,000 with a monthly payment of $118.62 and a 4% fee of $600 will have an APR of 5.63%.

REMINDER

Work carefully with your local rehabilitation agency in selection of a reputable, qualified contractor, to help insure the success of your home improvement project.

^{}Disability definition from the Office of Handicapped Affairs.

Costs to the Borrower

When applying for a HILP loan, borrowers will be charged a fee of 4% of the loan amount by the local rehabilitation agency. The minimum fee is $200 and the maximum fee is $600. This fee can be included in the loan amount. Borrowers also should be prepared to pay title examination charges, recording and filing fees. Although these fees vary from lender to lender, they should not exceed $300.

GET THE LEAD OUT

HELPING LOW- AND MODERATE-INCOME FAMILIES REDUCE THE RISK OF LEAD PAINT POISONING IN THEIR HOMES

A SERVICE OF THE EXECUTIVE OFFICE OF COMMUNITIES AND DEVELOPMENT AND MASSACHUSETTS

ver one million homes and apartments in the Commonwealth are contaminated with lead paint, according to the Massachusetts Department of Public Health, and children, particularly those under the age of six, who live in those housing units are in potential danger of becoming poisoned. The continued presence of lead paint in our homes has persisted as an urgent health concern for the Commonwealth for the last two decades and has triggered a large state-sponsored effort to do more to rid our homes of the toxin.

As part of this effort, the Massachusetts Housing Finance Agency (MHFA), in cooperation with the Executive Office of Communities and Development (EOCD) and local housing rehabilitation agencies statewide, is offering a new low-interest loan program to help low-and moderate-income homeowners reduce lead paint hazards in their residences. The loan program, called "Get The Lead Out," was developed in cooperation with the Weld/Cellucci Administration, the Massachusetts Legislature, the Massachusetts Bankers Association and many health and housing advocacy groups.

Funds Available

A total of $11 million in loans will be made available through the Get the Lead Out Program to benefit an estimated 1,000 households. Of that amount, $10 million has been raised by the MHFA through the sale of tax-exempt bonds to private investors. The interest rate on most of the $10 million in loans will be reduced from 8.5% to 5% with savings achieved through the Savings Bank Life Insurance (SBLI) legislation sponsored by state Rep. Thomas Finneran of Boston. The other $1 million in loans will be funded with SBLI funds and will be available, under special circumstances, at 0% interest on a deferred payment basis.

Financing Terms

The Get the Lead Out Program provides reduced rate loans of up to $15,000, although the average loan is likely to be between $5,000 and $10,000. The loans carry a minimum term of six months and a maximum term of 15 years. All of the loan funds must be used solely for the abatement of lead paint in 1-4 family, owner-occupied residences.

Financing is being offered at 8.5%, 5%, and 0%, depending upon income and a borrower's ability to support additional debt.

5% Loans* The majority of loans under the Get the Lead Out Program will be made at the interest rate of 5% (APR 7.39%)*. That rate is achieved by using SBLI funds to further reduce MHFA's tax-exempt rate. At the end of the loan term, the borrower must continue to pay a monthly payment until the SBLI subsidy is repaid. Repayment of the subsidy will help ensure that affordable financing for lead paint abatement is available for other households in the future. (See Subsidy Repayment Schedule in box on page 2.)

To qualify for 5% financing, a borrower's Gross Annual Household Income must not exceed the amounts given below:

	ONE PERSON Household	Two or More Person Household
Boston Area	$38,000	$43,000
Lawrence-Haverhill Area	$38,000	$40,200
Lowell Area	$38,000	$42,400
Salem-Gloucester Area	$38,000	$43,700
Balance of State	$38,000	$39,600

Loan funds with a 5% interest rate will be targeted as follows:

- 50% of these funds will be reserved for households in which a lead-poisoned child is residing;
- 30% of these funds will be reserved for households who are under official order to delead, or who have children under six in residence, or who own and occupy a 2 4 family house in which children can be expected to live;
- and, 20% will be available generally to households that wish to abate the lead in their house.

The following example illustrates how a borrower will repay a 5 % Get the Lead Out Program loan. Through the SBLI funds, a borrower's interest rate is reduced from 8.5% to 5% for the term of the loan. The borrower is required to repay these SBLI funds in equal monthly installments once the principal balance of the loan has been retired. The calculations presented below are based on a $15,000 loan with a term of 15 years.

In this example, the borrower makes 180 monthly payments of $118.62, representing level payments for a $15,000 loan with an interest rate of 5% (APR 7.39)* and a term of 15 years. Beginning in year 16 and continuing for the next 44 months, the $5,236.20 that was needed to reduce the interest rate from 8.5% to 5% is repaid by the borrower in 44 equal payments of $118.62 per month.

8.5% Loans Approximately 50 to 100 loans will be made at an interest rate of 8.5% (APR 9.19%)* to borrowers who have a lead poisoned child and/or are under official order to delead, and whose Gross Annual Household Incomes exceed MHFA limits but are within the U.S. Treasury Department's income limits (see below).

On a $15,000 loan, at an interest rate of 8.5% (APR 9.19%)* and a term of 15 years, a borrower will make 180 monthly payments of $147.71.

0% (deferred payment) Loans

These 0% loans (APR .278%)* will be set-aside specifically for emergency situations involving households, who meet MHFA's income limits for 5% financing and have lead poisoned children, but are unable to support additional debt at this time. Credit and debt history will not adversely affect the borrower's ability to secure funds under this category and no repayment of the loan is required until the property is sold or refinanced. These loans will be funded with a special pool of SBLI funds and are expected to assist up to 100 families.

A borrower will make one payment of $15,000 on a $15,000 loan, at an interest rate of 0% (APR .278)*, if the property is sold or refinanced in 15 years.

*APR (Annual Percentage Rate)

Lenders are required by law to provide consumers with information as to the total cost and effective interest rate, or Annual Percentage Rate (APR), associated with a loan. Under the MHFA's Get the Lead Out Program, the APR is determined by the loan contract interest rate, either 8.5%, 5%, or 0%, and the fee charged to the borrower by a local rehabilitation agency and if applicable, the contract interest rate subsidy. The APR will vary depending on the amount and term of the loan and the fee charged by the rehabilitation agency and if applicable, the amount of the contract interest rate subsidy. Generally, the APR will increase as the term of the loan decreases.

The local rehabilitation agency fee will be 4% of the amount of the loan. The maximum fee is $600 and the minimum $200. The fee is required to be included in the amount of the loan. In addition to the local rehabilitation agency fee, borrowers receiving contract interest rate of 5% will also be required to repay the interest subsidy of 3½%. The subsidy amount is repayable at the end of the loan term in monthly payments equal to the monthly payments due on the loan, however, without interest. MHFA financing at a contract interest rate of 0% is repayable upon sale, refinancing or transfer of the property.

The APRs in the examples are based on a loan of $15,000, a loan term of 15 years (plus 44 months in the case of the 5% loan with the subsidy) and a housing rehabilitation fee of $600.

Steps Involved in Getting the Loan

Lead paint abatement loans are initiated statewide only through MHFA-designated, participating rehabilitation agencies who will help borrowers in virtually every step of the loan application and lead abatement process. This process is as follows:

- 1. Homeowners should first contact local rehabilitation agencies serving their areas (see page 4). These agencies will help homeowners determine if they are eligible for the program and, through a participating lender, will assist them in securing MHFA financing. These agencies also will provide lists of state-certified lead paint abatement inspectors and licensed contractors for homeowners' consideration.
- 2. Next, homeowners must hire a state-certified lead abatement inspector to examine the home to determine where lead paint exists and from which surfaces it must be removed. (Homeowners who have a lead paint inspection prior to applying for financing may be reimbursed for inspection costs from loan proceeds as long as lead exists and they are approved for financing.)
- 3. After an inspection, homeowners will employ a state-licensed contractor to abate the lead paint (borrowers may not do deleading work or pay themselves or family members residing in the home with funds received from their MHFA loan and they must comply with state regulations and vacate the premises until the work is completed);
- 4. Finally, homeowners will have their property reinspected by state-licensed inspectors, who must provide written "certificates of compliance," verifying that the required surfaces containing lead paint were treated or abated properly and that their homes are safe for reoccupancy. In no instances, will the final disbursement of loan funds for lead abatement work be made before the certificate of compliance is issued indicating that the work has been done in full compliance with state lead law.

Please note: MHFA guidelines and programs are subject to change. This brochure and any accompanying insert(s) are intended to provide an overview of the program guidelines. Many of the program guidelines are required by federal law. The Agency understands that requirements are somewhat complicated, and encourages you to obtain complete data from participating rehabilitation

agencies and lenders:

Loans for Rental Properties

The MHFA's Get the Lead Out Program is targeted solely to owner-occupied, 1–4 family homes, not investor-owned rental properties. However, the MHFA, with the EOCD, the Massachusetts Bankers Association and the Massachusetts Housing Partnership, is designing a program of lead paint loan guarantees for owners of larger rental properties and investor-owned units. This will be done with $1 million of the SBLI funds and is expected to leverage $10 to $20 million in conventional funds. The availability of this program will be announced later this year.

Costs to the Buyer

When applying for the Get the Lead Out Program, borrowers will be charged a fee of 4% of the loan amount by the local rehabilitation agency. The minimum fee is $200 and the maximum fee is $600. This fee can be included in the loan amount. Borrowers also should be prepared to pay title examination charges, recording and filing fees. Although these fees vary from lender to lender, they should not exceed $300.

LEAD PAINT POISONING AND THOSE AT RISK

ublic health officials have identified lead as a major environmental hazard to children. Until the federal government outlawed lead-based paint for residential use in 1978, it was commonly found in the interiors and exteriors of homes on such surfaces as walls, windows, floors, ceilings, staircases and doors.

- Lead can turn up anywhere: in the air, in the soil, in our water and food. It remains in older homes throughout Massachusetts and often goes unnoticed until a child is found to have abnormally high levels of lead in the blood stream.
- Children do not need to eat paint chips to get lead poisoning. According to the Boston Childhood Lead Poisoning Prevention Program, most children are lead poisoned by putting their fingers or toys in their mouths, which is natural for young children, but becomes dangerous if there is lead dust or dirt on their fingers and toys.
- Lead paint, if ingested by a child in sufficient quantities, can cause reading disabilities, slowed motor development, and hearing and memory loss. Since there are no immediate symptoms connected with lead poisoning, health officials recommend that all children should be routinely screened for lead poisoning. Children who are at higher risk (i.e. those who may have been exposed) should be screened more frequently. Parents can contact their local health care provider or local health department for information on screening.

THE MASSACHUSETTS LEAD LAW

Massachusetts enacted the nation's first lead law in 1971. The law requires that all residential property owners abate or remove the risk of possible lead poisoning in homes in which children, who are under the age of six, live or spend lengthy periods of time. This can be accomplished by replacing the lead paint surfaces or by other means including scraping, dipping or covering the affected areas.

Property owners are able to receive a state income tax credit, once their homes have been brought into compliance with the lead law. Currently, the Massachusetts Legislature is considering amendments to the state's lead law and, in view of today's rapidly changing technology, hopes to make the lead paint abatement process faster, easier and less expensive in the future.

ABATING LEAD PAINT

Because lead is not biodegradable (does not disappear with the passage of time), it must be removed physically. Do-it-your-selfers are warned by health officials not to take on lead paint removal jobs, themselves, no matter how easy a task it seems to be. In fact, it is illegal to attempt such an endeavor. Pregnant women, for example, who are renovating their homes to provide nurseries, should stay away from any lead paint contaminated surfaces. If they do not, they may subject themselves and their babies to lead paint poisoning. Lead paint abatement should be done only by statelicensed contractors.

HOP

HOMEOWNERSHIP OPPORTUNITY PROGRAM

PROVIDING AFFORDABLE HOMES AND MORTGAGES FOR FIRST-TIME BUYERS

Given the excess housing stock available now in many areas of the Commonwealth, HOP funding for new housing construction has been suspended. However, there are some previously committed HOP developments in construction which, upon completion, will have units available for purchase through the program. (These developments are listed on page 2).

A Service of the Executive Office of Communities and Development and Massachusetts Housing Finance Agency he Homeownership Opportunity Program (HOP) was created in 1986 to provide affordable homes and mortgages for people of modest economic means. The HOP program is based upon a partnership that uses state, local and private sector resources to provide "affordable" homes and low cost mortgages to income-eligible, first-time buyers. In any HOP development, at least 30 percent of the units must fall within this "affordable" category. To ensure the affordability of these units is maintained, there also are some restrictions on their resale.

Under HOP, communities and developers have been encouraged to work together to design developments that will be successful in particular housing markets. Thus, depending on the location, developments may consist of conventional wood-frame or modular designs; single family homes or townhouses; or low-rise or mid-rise buildings.

Given the excess housing stock available now in many areas of the Commonwealth, HOP funding for new housing construction has been suspended. However, there are some previously committed HOP developments in construction which, upon completion, will have units available for purchase through the program. (These developments are listed on page 2).

How HOP Works

HOP developments include homes which are available at a mix of prices to families earning a range of incomes. Most of the homes built through HOP will fall into one of three categories: (1) HOP-assisted; (2) MHFA-assisted; or (3) market rate. The following chart provides an overview of the benefits and requirements associated with each of these three categories.

BUYERS

HOP-Assisted Buyers¹ (30% of the homes in a development)

ADVANTAGES

- Substantially reduced home prices (in the $75,000 to $95,000 range)
- Low interest mortgage (through use of MHFA tax-exempt financing and MHP subsidy loan provides mortgage up to 5% below conventional bank rate for first years and generally 2% below conventional bank rate for full term of loan)
- 5% downpayment
- More flexible credit ratios
- Where needed, closing cost assistance

REQUIREMENTS

- First-time homebuyer
- Maximum income, for a onefour person family, of $35,700 in Boston area and $33,800 elsewhere in the state
- Creditworthy
- Agree to some restrictions to maintain affordability of homes for future buyers and to repay a portion of the subsidies that were used to reduce the mortgage loan interest rate.

- MHFA-Assisted Buyers² (0%—20% of the homes in a development)
- Moderately-priced homes
- Low interest mortgage (through MHFA tax-exempt financing provides mortgage at approximately 2% below conventional bank rates for full term of loan)
- 5% downpayment
- More flexible credit ratios

- Meet income guidelines
- Creditworthy
- Depending upon income, if a borrower sells home within ten years of the date of purchase, a portion of the subsidy used to reduce the mortgage loan interest rate must be repaid to federal government.

Market Buyers (50% – 70% of the homes in a development)

■ Newly constructed homes at market prices

■ Creditworthy

Closing Cost Assistance

A Borrower's Assistance Program (BAP) has been established for HOP-assisted borrowers who have insufficient funds to pay closing costs. Through BAP, loans of $5,000 are available to cover closing costs associated with these mortgages. Loans have a fixed interest rate of 3% and are paid back at the time of resale.

Restrictions

HOP-assisted units are sold to eligible home-buyers at prices that generally are 15% to 50% below their appraised values. To ensure the long-term affordability of these homes through comparable discounts to future buyers, a number of restrictions have been established relative to the resale price of a home and the repayment of HOP subsidy used. Similar federal restrictions exist for properties sold within ten years of the original purchase date. Complete details on these restrictions can be obtained from participating lenders and HOP marketing agents.

Applying for HOP Assistance

A list of HOP developments for which applications are now being or will be accepted is included in this flier. Complete details on these developments and eligibility requirements can be obtained by contacting the marketing agent whose name and phone number is listed next to the development name.
